VOBB quality construction stops run-away bulldozer

As per the Ascension Parish, Louisiana sheriff's report: Due to vandalism, a bulldozer was hot-wired, the throttle was tied to full speed and set off for the river. However, the bulldozer was stopped at the VOBB construction site. The building superintendent was extremely mad with the vandalism, but he was very impressed with the strength of the VOBB concrete block construction.

“Why cut it with a saw when you can draw it with a pencil?” asked one satisfied VOBB owner. VOBB is based on simplicity. 6”, 12” and 18” long concrete blocks. Labor cost 30 cents or less (for simple jobs). No weak mortar joint.
